Château Rocheyron 2016

Saint-Emilion Grand Cru

April 2017 - James Suckling

98-99/100

This shows superb freshness and minerality with a profound purity of fruit and depth. Full-bodied yet remains agile and subtle. Such decadence yet finesse at the finish. A triumph. Perhaps a little more clarity and brilliance to this even compared to the 2015.

April 2017 - Decanter - Jane Anson

95/100

One of the hidden treasures of St-Emilion, this Peter Sisseck and Silvio Denz estate is over on the limestone plateau of St Christophe des Bardes, and has delivered something pretty special in 2016. Closed at first, this is muscular and austere until it opens up to reveal stunning tension and complex, persistent layers of violet-scented raspberry and redcurrant fruits pulsing with minerality. Curls of woodsmoke whip things up to the next level and there is a finesse to the tannins that brings it all together. What a potential for this wine. Drinking window 2027-2045

April 2017 - Wine Spectator - James Molesworth

92-95/100

This has lovely purity, with a cassis and raspberry core that stretches out while a long, refined, mouthwatering chalky spine races through. Has some well-buried grip too.

April 2017 - The Wine Cellar Insider - Jeff Leve

93-95/100

Inky ruby and purple in color, the wine offers boysenberry, floral, licorice and black and blue fruit.

Sweet, lush, fresh and pure with a concentrated, dark chocolate and plum liqueur finish.

18.5/20

Sattes Purpur mit schwarzer Mitte und lila Schimmer am Rand. Filigranes, tänzerisches Bouquet mit Himbeermark und Preiselbeeren, dahinter Heidelbeeren und Veilchen. Am eleganten Gaumen mit fein muskulöser Textur, zartem Gripp aber seidiger Textur. Im Rückaroma mit Milkschokolade und Cassis im lang anhaltenden Finale - das erste Mal, dass er mich wirklich überzeugt hat! Kann noch zulegen. 2025 - 2045

April 2017 - Bordeaux Total - André Kunz

Frisches, duftiges, seidenes Bouquet, Himbeeren, Johannisbeergelee, Minze, Pralinen, Vanillepulver, Kräuter. Ausgewogener, feingliedriger, vielschichtiger Gaumen mit seidener, eleganter Struktur, kräftiger, süsser Aromatik, feinem Tannin, guter Frucht, langer, duftiger Abgang. warten (2023 - 2038)
